RESIGNATION OF SECRETARY OF STATE ROBERT LANSING FOLLOWS A LONG DISAGREEMENT WITH CHIEF EXECUTIVE

Differences Over Many Questions Covering a Period of Three Years Lead to His Resignation.

DISAGREED BEFORE WAR

Treaty of Peace and The League Of Nations Also Caused Serious Differences.

Lansing's Action in Calling Cabinet Supported by President.

News Agency Violates Pledge To State Department.

(By Associated Press.)

Washington, February 14.—Rebuked by President Wilson for calling cabinet meetings during his illness, Secretary Lansing has resigned.

The President has accepted the resignation "with appreciation," and Mr. Lansing becomes the second secretary of state to leave the administration over a disagreement with his chief.

Although the correspondence between Mr. Lansing and the President makes the calling of the cabinet meetings the incident which leads directly to the Secretary's resignation, persons "on the inside" of the administration say that it was only an incident, and that the real reasons for the break go back over a period of many months and come from fundamental differences of opinion in policy.

The disagreements even antedated the entry of the United States into the war.

The relations between the two men almost reached the breaking point early in 1917, when Mr. Lansing issued his celebrated statement saying the United States was daily being drawn nearer and nearer the war.

By some that was taken to forecast the entry of the United States. The President made every effort to overtake the statement after it had been given out at the State Department, but it was impossible.

When Mr. Lansing went as a member of the peace delegation to Paris, more differences developed. With other members of the American mission, he was not in accord with the President's idea of making the treaty of peace and the covenant of the League of Nations one and the same inseparable document.

It was Mr. Lansing's idea that such a plan would delay ratification of a peace treaty, and in this he was supported by Colonel House and Henry White.

However, the incident which came nearer causing a break than any other was the sensational testimony of William C. Bullitt, one of the experts of the American peace mission, before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Bullitt quoted Secretary Lansing as having told him he was out of sympathy with the League of Nations covenant and as predicting the treaty would fail if the American people ever learned of its full import.

The relations between the two became more and more strained, and then Mr. Lansing's action in calling the cabinet together brought them to the breaking point.

The Secretary of State, it should be said, believed he was supported by the President last night and stipulated that it was for publication in morning papers today. Some news agencies, however, other than the Associated Press, violated their pledges to the State Department and published the letters in some parts of the country late yesterday.

SEC'Y LANE INSISTS HE IS GUILTY AS LANSING

Declares Lansing Called Him And Other Cabinet Members Before Meeting.

"MEETINGS GOOD THING"

Says Wilson's Physician Was Present at Meetings And Carried Messages.

(By Associated Press.)

Washington, February 14.—Secretary Lane declared today that he considered himself "just as much responsible" as Secretary Lansing for the calling of cabinet meetings during the President's illness. He said Mr. Lansing called him on the telephone and obtained his approval of the idea before calling the first meeting and "presumably secured the approval of other cabinet members also."

"We all thought the meetings a good thing," said Mr. Lane, who retired as Secretary of the Interior March 1st.

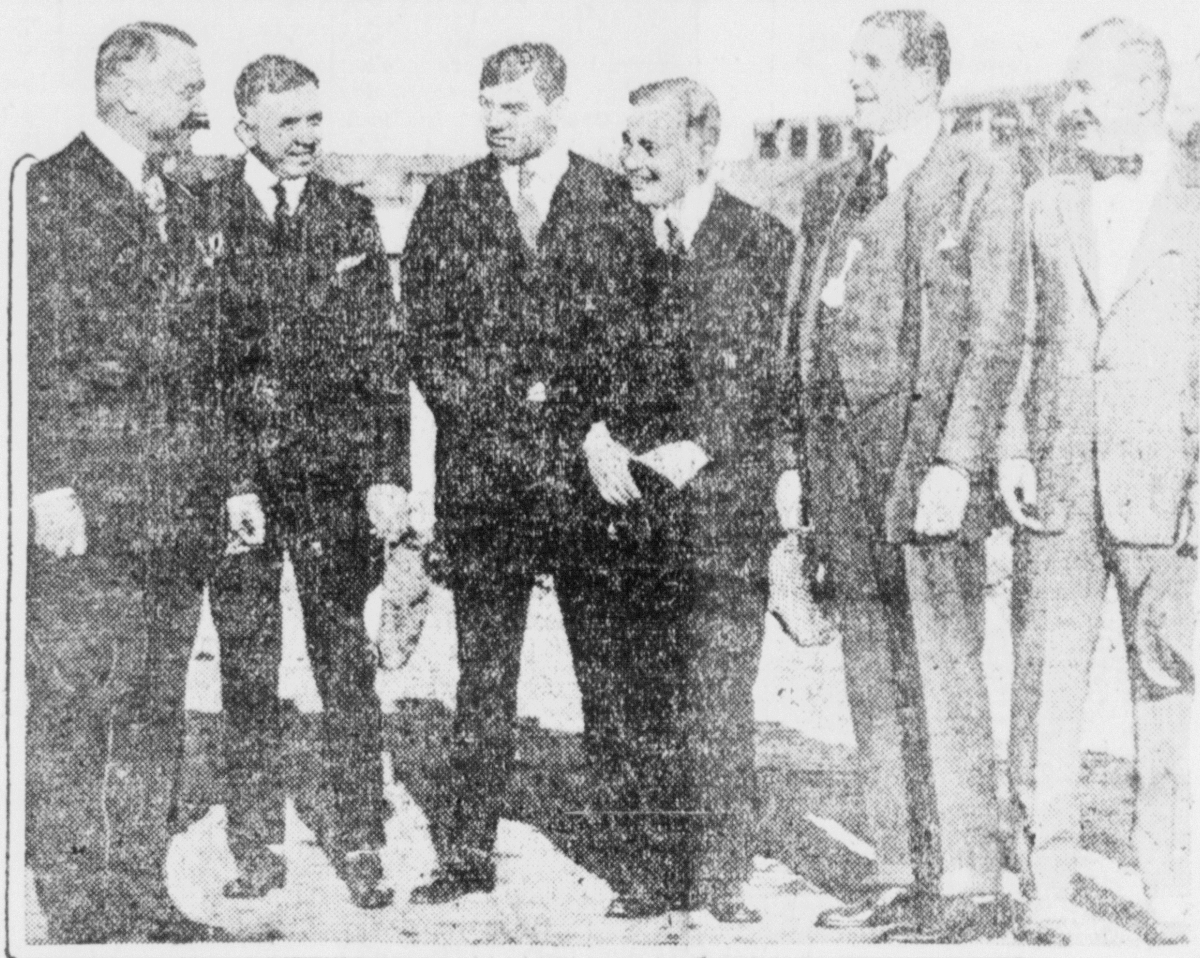

"They were often attended by Dr. Grayson and messages were transmitted to the President on questions discussed," he said.

FARMERS PASS RESOLUTIONS AT BIG MEETING

Chicago, February 14.—The farmers' national council said to represent 750,000 farmers in 18 states today adopted resolutions supporting the general principles enunciated by the national farmer labor co-operative conference in session here.

The farmers' organization urges a two-year extension of government control of railroads and demands the government retain all ships that can be used by the United States. Another resolution declares the farmers are opposed to efforts to "restrict the civil liberties of American citizens by peace-time sedition laws."

NOTABLES OF THE SPORTING WORLD MEET ON MEXICAN SOIL

These six men, whose names are famous in the sporting world, met recently while attending the races at Tia Juana, Mexico, and were photographed at the track. Oldfield is one of the best known of American auto racers. Kearns is winning fame and fortune as the manager of Jack Dempsey. Dempsey is America's last word in heavyweights at the present moment, and just now is acting in the movies. Coffroth is promoting races and big bouts in Tia Juana.

Corbett is America's most popular ex-heavyweight champion. Frank Chance is still remembered as manager of the champion Cubs in 1906, 1907 and 1908. Tia Juana is just below the international boundary of Lower California.

DAVIS OR POLK MAY BE NAMED AS SUCCESSOR

No Further Cabinet Resignations to Follow That Of Lansing.

President Rapidly Regaining His Health.

(By Associated Press.)

Washington, February 14.—There will be no more resignations from the cabinet as a result of the Lansing incident, it was said today at the White House.

"I am not going to discuss the Lansing-Wilson controversy—the letters speak for themselves," Secretary Tumulty said.

There was no information available at the White House today as to Mr. Lansing's probable successor, but the appointment is expected very soon.

John W. Davis, Ambassador at London, and Under Secretary Polk are being discussed.

Cabinet meetings will be resumed "very soon," and, as announced a few days ago, President Wilson will preside.

White House officials said today the President was making rapid strides toward regaining his health.

Columbus, O., February 14.—In a memorandum to Governor Cox former State Treasurer John Brennan urges him to veto the amended Smith cold storage bill in which he says there are a number of objectionable features. (By Associated Press.)

Chicago, February 14.—Victory in woman's battle for an equal voice in government, fought for 51 years, will be proclaimed tonight by 1400 woman suffragists and with their proclamation the National American Women's Suffrage Association to all intents and purposes passes from sight.

Rising up from its ashes will be the League of Women Voters which tomorrow takes up the task of teaching women how to use the vote.

Victory is celebrated tonight, although five states must ratify the 19th constitutional amendment before it will become law.

The suffragists are confident the necessary ratifications will be made within a few days.

DECISION OF WILSON IS ACCEPTED FOR PRESENT

Railroaders Will Hold Demands In Abeyance While Experts Investigate Wage Demands

PRESIDENT GETS REPLY

Maintenance of Way Men To Strike Tuesday

TELEGRAMS SENT

(By Associated Press.)

Washington, February 14.—The railroad employees' representatives have agreed to accept the recommendation of President Wilson to hold their wage demands in abeyance temporarily, it was announced today.

President Wilson informed the men of his intention to appoint a commission of wage experts to go thoroughly into their claims. On this basis the union leaders agreed to delay further demands for increased wages and called a convention of committeemen to be held here February 23.

The union leaders' reply to the President's proposal did not end the question finally. They made it clear they desired word from officials in closer touch with their membership than they—the delegates who have been conferring with Director General Hines since February 1st.

As part of his reply the President requested the maintenance of way men to withdraw their strike order effective next Tuesday.

Washington, February 14.—The reply of the Railroad Brotherhoods to President Wilson's decision in the wage controversy was presented to the President today.

Immediately afterward the union officials sent telegrams to their locals over the country which President Jewell, of the Railway Department of the American Federation of Labor, said would "serve to steady our men until they receive the full correspondence covering the negotiations."

Mr. Jewell would not say just what had been the result of the negotiations but it seemed certain the President had refused to meet the demands of the 2,000,000 workers for a general wage increase and that his decision had been accepted by the union officials at least for the present.

It was announced by union men that the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen had joined in the decision submitted to the President but that the maintenance of way employees had not become a party to it. These men have been ordered to strike Tuesday.

Exchange of Letters Between Wilson and Lansing End in Latter Tendering Resignation

PRESIDENT ACCEPTS

Wilson Takes Exception To Lansing's Assumption of Presidential Authority in Calling Cabinet Meetings.

(By Associated Press.)

Washington, February 13.—Robert Lansing ended his career as Secretary of State today after President Wilson had accused him of usurping the power of President by calling meetings of the cabinet during Mr. Wilson's illness.

Lansing denied that he had sought or intended to usurp the presidential authority. He added, however, that he believed then, and still believes, that the Cabinet conferences were "for the best interest of the republic, and that they were proper and necessary because of the President's condition, and that he would have been derelict to his duty if he had failed to act as he did."

As the record stands, Mr. Lansing tendered his resignation and Mr. Wilson accepted it. The resignation was offered, however, only after the President, under date of February 7, had written asking if it were true that Mr. Lansing had called cabinet meetings and stating that if such were the case he felt it necessary to say that "under our constitutional law and practice, as developed hitherto, no one but the President has the right to summon the heads of the executive department into conference."

Mr. Lansing answered two days later—last Monday—saying he had called the cabinet conferences because he and others of the President's official family "felt that in view of the fact that we were denied communication with you, it was wise for us to confer informally together on matters as to which action could not be postponed until your medical advisers permitted you to pass upon them."

The Secretary concluded by saying that if the President believed he had failed in his "loyalty" to him, and if Mr. Wilson no longer had confidence in him, he was ready to "relieve you of any embarrassment by placing my resignation in your hands."

The President replied last Wednesday that he was "much disappointed" by Mr. Lansing's letter regarding the "so called cabinet meetings." He said he found nothing in the Secretary's letter "which justifies your assumption of presidential authority in such a matter," and added that he "must frankly take advantage of your kind suggestion to resign."

"I must say continued the President, 'that it would relieve me of embarrassment, Mr. Secretary, the embarrassment of feeling your reluctance and divergence of judgement, if you would

BLUE AND WHITE SUFFERS DEFEAT AT CIRCLEVILLE

Washington High School's basketball team was again forced to take a second dose in the way of defeat when the Blue and White was forced to succumb before the big red team of Circleville High on the Circleville floor Friday evening, by the lop-sided score of 18 to 49.

In looking over the records it is discovered that not for many years has Washington High won over Circleville on Circleville's own floor. This is due partly to the fact that the contour of the Circleville floor is something like an empty swimming pool and there is no out of bounds, while the ball is in play. Washington High's crack squad last season was beaten by Circleville and the second defeat in as many weeks has caused no alarm in the Blue and White camp.

Three minutes after the game started Washington High lost one of the stellar guards when Tommy Rogers took sick and was forced to be taken from the floor. "Barney" Perrill went in and filled the vacancy.

Circleville grabbed the lead and rushed away with 21 points in the first half while the Washington men were garnering three baskets.

Washington High came back with a rush in the last quarter and although hopelessly beaten staged a rally that netted twelve points.

Features of the game were the goal shooting of the Circleville forwards and the pass work of the Washington team in the last quarter.

Circleville fans were out in great numbers to see the game. When on the road Washington High is always a big drawing card and never plays to empty seats.

The Blue and White team will be idle until next Friday when the squad goes to Greenfield to again tackle Circleville in their first game of the tournament.

BREAD IS BACK TO OLD PRICES

The bakers of the city, three in number, have reduced the price of bread to ten cents per loaf after the increase of two cents per loaf which lasted about one week, during which time twelve cents per loaf was charged.

With reduction of the retail price to ten cents per loaf, the weight of the loaf goes back to the weight prior to the two cents increase, and the wholesale price drops from ten cents to 8½ cents once more.

Protest over the increase, reduction in the price of flour and the fact that some other bakers were producing bread at 10 cents per loaf are chief reasons for reduction in the price.

CLASS B TEAMS IN FULL SWING

EXALTED RULER OF ELKS DIES

(Special to The Herald)
Chillicothe, O., February 14.—John L. Miller, Exalted Ruler of the Chillicothe Lodge of Elks, died suddenly this morning.

Two days ago he became ill with the influenza. His death is one of very few so far resulting from the flu.

PARLOR TOURNEY WHEN BAN LIFTS

Before the influenza ban closed all activities at the Y. M. C. A. the Recreation Committee had plans in view for holding a chess, checker, and billiard tournament. Ideas for the tourney have now materialized and arrangements have been made for setting the dates for the event as soon as the closing ban has been lifted.

The tournament will be run in three departments, chess, checkers, and billiards. In the chess tourney each entrant will play each entrant; it is thought that the limited number of persons who will enter this department will permit the elimination of entrants by this method. Two out of three games will decide the winner.

For the elimination of the checker entrants the players will be paired for a series of five games each until the winner is decided; three out of five contests will make a winner.

Billiards will be divided into two separate divisions straight billiards and pocket billiards. One hundred points will make a winner.

Entry blanks may be filled out at the office of the Y. M. C. A. at any time.

Another Martyr

Another brave man has paid the supreme price for fealty and devotion to his country and to his people.

Admiral Kolchak, former head of the all-Russian government and bitter antagonist of Trotsky and Lenin, has been executed, confirmed advices from Europe state.

Kolchak was "raised on the bayonets of his own men," if press reports are authentic, just as many another martyr has met his fate—through the propaganda-inspired treachery of those he trusted as his friends and supporters.

Kolchak's sad fate has scores of parallels in history. He loved his country. He loved his people. He sought to stand between them and their own destruction and was engulfed in the great red wave of crime and horror on which they were borne.

When the murderous plague of anarchy and bolshevism has been overcome or has spent itself, which shall inevitably come to pass, those who have crushed this courageous defender, will, in the dead calm of reawakening, be stung with remorse and will exalt his memory. So it has ever been.

Kolchak's career was that of the patriot. Originally, he was commander of the Russian naval forces in the Baltic. When the bolshevist menace first rose after the abdication of the Czar Nicholas, he became a leading figure in the councils of those few but loyal patriots who sought to bring a consistent democracy out of the ruins of monarchy in time to curb the threatening clouds of anarchy. But his compatriots, while staunch, were comparatively few and the deadly mania came on apace.

Kolchak at first allied himself to Kerensky and supported the brilliant young statesman during the latter's brief tenure of control. Later he commanded the anti-bolshevik army of the Urals, co-operating with General Denikin in the south and General Yudenitch in the west. Last January, with the characteristic scorn of the soldier who fights for right, he refused to participate in conference with the bolsheviks, declaring he could not negotiate with "murderers and criminals."

On May 8 last, the provisional Russian government at Archangel acknowledged him supreme and he was so recognized by allied nations.

Among Kolchak's acts were the issuance of a mandate providing that peasants retain land holdings confiscated from big estates and a public declaration that a "democratic government is the only hope for Russia."

The manner of Kolchak's death, cruel though it was, will have its ultimate influence for good on the Russian peoples, even as the martyrdom of Christ had its effect upon the world.

Another War Problem

There is another problem,—a very human problem—that has grown out of the war and which seems worthy of serious governmental consideration and prompt, effective action, and that is the relief of misery caused by the separation of families divided by the sea throughout the great conflict.

As was customary in peace times, there were many men of foreign countries who came to America in the years immediately prior to the war with the object of earning money to relieve the sufferings of poverty. Many, if not most of these, were men with families dependent upon them, and their purpose was, after securing their little stake, to either return to their loved ones or to send them money that they might come to the land of the free.

Then came the war—those four years of hell whose terms are written large in their application to nations but which are insufficient to cover the miseries of individuals.

The world is scarcely large enough to contain the stories that might be written of what the war did to families and individuals. There are men in American workshops who have not heard from their families over there since 1914, and there are men and women who have not heard from their children or parents in the same length of time. In many, many cases they will never hear. It is the war.

But news that has come has almost without exception told of suffering, of hunger, of destitution, often without promise of relief. Hundreds of responsible heads of families are waiting the opportunity to bring their suffering kinsfolk across, and are appealing to the government to make this possible. The war has been over fifteen months. But somehow the gates seem closed to these unfortunates.

It is a regrettable condition, to say the very least, reviewed as a whole and from a distance. Getting down to actual cases it is heartbreaking. Certainly it is worthy of the serious attention of those who have knowledge of how the channels may be opened and the power to open them.

POETRY FOR TODAY

HIS VALENTINE

I reckon that it's gittin' time
For me to rise and shine—
My sweetheart has told me
That she'd be my Valentine!

The almanac says "Winter,"
But the birds are singin' fine
An' all because by sweetheart's
Goin' to be my Valentine!

I'm in the race to win—
O sweetheart o' mine!
Life's holdin' Heaven in it
Since you'll be my Valentine!

On the same day that he received this letter from the President, Mr. Lansing announced that he had written other cabinet officers that he would not call any more cabinet conferences for the present but no explanation was offered.

Inquiry at the White House brought only the statement that Mr. Wilson himself probably would call and preside at the next session of his official advisors.

But the differences between the President long pre-date the first cabinet call by Mr. Lansing, which was issued last October 5, seven days after Mr. Wilson returned from his western speaking tour and took to his bed.

They began at the peace conference, in Paris, as Mr. Lansing disclosed in his final letter to the President under date of yesterday, and had continued since that time—one of the chief differences being over the government's attitude toward Mexico.

RANDOM NOTES

SOCIAL : PERSONAL MENTION : CLUBS

Virtually all social activities will continue suspended under orders of the Board of Health for another week during which time meetings of clubs, lodges, church societies and all other public gatherings are prohibited under the sweeping powers of the Health authorities in order to guard against a fresh outbreak of the influenza while there is so much of the disease in the city and community. All social gatherings in homes come under the ban of the Board of Health for next week.

Although the prevailing illness has interfered with the accustomed gaieties of the St. Valentine season, yet this exceedingly popular festival could hardly go by without recognition and a few little affairs chiefly of the home circle chronicled.

In the Junior set St. Valentine's day provides the gayest affairs of the year, with all the numerous pretty little conceits of the day in use, and the absence of these accustomed gaieties has caused quite a little disappointment among the younger folk.

In compliment to the birthday of her husband, and both as a complete surprise and a very delightful affair a perfect success, Mrs. A. Clark Gossard entertained with a six o'clock dinner Friday night.

St. Valentine suggestions were admirably carried out in the decorations and four courses of the season's delicacies served.

The table, laid with eighteen covers was lovely, the St. Valentine idea carried out in hundreds of Cupids and hearts, which festooned the cut glass electrolier with scarlet shade, shedding a rosy glow from the center of the table, and formed graceful overhead garlands extending to the four corners of the table. St. Valentine place cards and nut baskets were used. Seated with Mr. and Mrs. Gossard were Mr. George Gossard, Sr., Miss Josephine and Mr. C. A. Gossard, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Pensyl and three children, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. McFarland, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Niggle, Miss Erna McFarland, of Springfield, Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe R. Kibler and daughter, Miss Maxine.

On Sunday Mrs. Gossard's father, Mr. H. H. McFarland, has his natal anniversary and Mrs. McFarland is celebrating it with a family dinner at their home in Springfield. Saturday afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. Gossard motored back to Springfield with Mrs. Gossard's parents to attend this affair.

A St. Valentine's Day wedding, eliciting the interest of relatives and friends in large number was that of Miss Dorcas Elizabeth Waters, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George M. Waters, of this city, and Mr. Frank A. Holden, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Holden, of Good Hope.

Rev. K. B. Alexander performed the ceremony at Grace M. E. parsonage, Saturday morning at 7:55.

The charming young bride looked very smart in a tailored suit of midnight blue, with georgette blouse of same shade, and spring hat, and gloves en suite.

The ceremony was witnessed by Mr. and Mrs. Clark Coffey, Miss Ruth Waters, sisters of the bride, Mrs. Robert Rodgers, sister of the bridegroom, Mr. Richard Waters, brother of the bride, Mrs. M. C. Myers, little daughter, Mary Katharine, and Miss Naomi Campbell.

Mr. and Mrs. Holden left on the west bound Pennsylvania for Cincinnati and after a short trip will reside near Good Hope. Mr. Holden will continue in extensive farming with his father, Mr. R. J. Holden, one of the large land owners and most prominent farmers of Southern Fayette.

Both bride and bridegroom are being followed with heartsome best wishes.

The bride, a very attractive likeable girl, has competently filled office positions with the Orman Motor Co., and with the George A. Robinson Coal Co., and adds many business acquaintances to her list of personal friends.

The bridegroom is an intelligent young farmer and business man and enjoys an unusual personal popularity.

The administration at Washington has asked club women to assist in helping to bring to normal conditions the present high cost of living. The president of the Ohio federation has been appointed state chairman of the women's division of the high-cost-of-living campaign by the department of justice. The women of Ohio did not fail our government during the time of war, Mrs. Sharp asserts, and she believes they will not fail now when the problems of peace are serious and vital. Just what program will be adopted has not been announced by the Ohio federation, but it is certain that the thousands of club women in Ohio working in harmony will be a formidable force for Old Hi-Cost to reckon with.

"It was a dignified affair—the Junior prom at Ohio State University, the big social event of the college year last evening in the gymnasium.

"Decorative effects were unusual. A false ceiling, a solid mass of greenery with wisteria had been built. Other flowers were suspended in clusters and twined about pillars and doorways.

"White blossoms in big jars, rustic seats half hidden by southern smilax and indirect lighting made the interior a thing of beauty."—Ohio State Journal.

JAMES M'L. WELSH DIES IN CHILLICOTHE

The death of Mr. James McL. Welsh, which occurred at his home in Chillicothe, at ten o'clock Friday morning, will be learned with much regret by the many friends of the Welsh family in this city.

About two years ago Mr. Welsh suffered from a stroke of paralysis, but the immediate cause of his death was Bright's disease. Mr. Welsh was a member of one of the most prominent pioneer families of Chillicothe and Ross county. He never married but following the death of his parents many years ago, made up the home circle with his two sisters, Anna M. and Jane Welsh, who survive him.

Mr. Welsh was widely known as a ruling elder of the Third Presbyterian church of Chillicothe, and until prevented by ill health, was never absent from any of the church gatherings connected with the Chillicothe Presbytery and actively identified with every interest of Presbyterianism. Funeral services will be held at the home, 35 East Main street, Chillicothe, Monday afternoon, with burial at Grandview. Friends are asked to kindly omit flowers.

Necessity, Not Choice

Compels Advance in Price of Milk

Owing to the fact that the cost of producing Milk has risen greatly, along with other things, we are compelled to make a slight advance in our resale price.

We have fought off this advance for many months, in the hope that conditions would adjust themselves and make it unnecessary.

But it has become absolutely necessary, if we maintain the supply and service to the community.

Beginning Sunday, February 15, the resale price of Milk will be 8c per pint and 15c per quart.

We do this through necessity—we have no other alternative—but with the assurance that if conditions become such as to permit, the price will go back.

The Clover Leaf Dairy

WHEN WE'RE SICK

It's when we lie "flat on our backs," bereft of appetite, sapped of vitality, burning with fever, and with nothing to occupy us but the figures in the wall paper and our own morbid reflections, that we are brought to realize and appreciate the blessings of strength, vigor and health.

We wonder then what could have possessed us to overlook the fact before and why we could have been so careless as to take the chance responsible for our enfeebled condition and we vow, right then and there, and with a solemn sincerity, too, that if we ever get back to a healthful normal we'll leave no thing undone to maintain it. We'll wear our overshoes on slushy days, we'll never sleep in a room that is not properly ventilated, we'll not overwork, we'll sweetly but certainly avoid our sneezing acquaintances, and we'll give at least as much attention to keeping ourselves in running order as we do to the family fiver, and we mean it.

But we don't do it. Human nature (accident on the human; animals, birds, and even fish take care of themselves). Only when we are taken ill again do we renew our resolutions—with despair.

The reason most people neglect to take care of their health when they have it is probably due to the fact that they allow minor considerations to absorb them and blind them to the value of life's greatest asset—a sound physique.

So many of us, in our pursuit of money, power, fame, pleasure—whatever our bent—forget that health is often the price of these when pursued too assiduously. Some of us are aware of the truth and take the chance anyway.

We have but to ask those who have made the sacrifice to learn that it does not pay.—Editorial from "The Herald," February 13, 1920.

The above editorial is worthy of more than passing notice. Health is a priceless possession. Chiropractic helps nature restore normal conditions to the body and a spinal adjustment now and then will help nature KEEP YOU WELL. Investigate!

I have been hearing a great deal about the rubber industry and had been asked by Henry W. Jones to go to Akron and look over the situation; this I did, visiting several of the larger factories. I talked with many people and all you hear is something about the rubber industry. On account of bad roads I did not visit the Akron Maderite Tire & Rubber Co. plant, but I did visit with B. L. Eaton, the vice-president of the company and was so impressed with this company that I have become a shareholder. I believe this an excellent opportunity to make money.

 IN JANUARY ALONE

After Shipping 838,400 Bottles of Celebrated Medicine In One Month Factory Is Still 380,000 Behind With Orders.

Although the big Tanlac laboratories at Dayton, Ohio, and Walker, Canada, have been running at top speed for months, it has been a physical impossibility to supply the phenomenal and ever increasing demand for this celebrated medicine.

During the first ten weeks of last year One Million Three Hundred and twenty-seven thousand bottles of Tanlac were sold, breaking all World's record for the sale of proprietary medicines up to that time. This record now pales into insignificance, however, as orders received during January alone of this year reached the astonishing total of One Million Two Hundred and Twenty Thousand bottles showing an increase of approximately one hundred per cent. over the corresponding period of 1919.

To say that Tanlac now has the largest sale of any medicine of its kind in the world expresses it mildly. It does not begin to tell the story for no other preparation has ever even approached the marvelous record that is now being made by Tanlac; and it is now conservatively estimated that the sales for the present year alone will amount to from seven to ten million bottles.

Of the orders received during January it was possible to ship only eight hundred and thirty-eight thousand bottles, and thousands of dealers scattered throughout the United States and Canada have been unable to obtain the medicine for weeks.

"Phenomenal and Bawling" is the way one of the big drug jobbers of the country describes the marvelous demand for Tanlac.

"We know that the day of miracles has passed, and we all know that there are no unfathomable mysteries in the drug business; but this Tanlac proposition smacks of both" writes another leading wholesale druggist whose firm has sold over 34 car loads, or an average of nearly one car load per month since they began handling Tanlac a few years ago. Thousands of similar letters and telegrams have been received, but for lack of space they can only be referred to briefly.

Most proprietary medicines are sold by the dozen or by the gross; a few are bought by the trade in quantities of from ten to twenty gross; a very few are sold by the car load, and then only to the largest jobbers, covering extensive territories. The fact therefore that scores of jobbers in this country and Canada have a demand sufficient to justify them in ordering not one carload, but from two to three car loads of Tanlac at a time makes Tanlac's pre-eminence in the field of medicine all the more noteworthy. It is the biggest thing of its kind in the world and nothing like it has ever happened in the drug trade before.

Think of one retail firm selling one-third of a million bottles of any one medicine right over the counter direct to consumers in only two years' time! It seems incredible, but such is the record made by the Owl Drug Company, through their retail stores on the Pacific Coast.

Think of one retail firm in a single city of 200,000 population, selling approximately eighty-eight thousand bottles, an average of over two bottles for every family, in only four years' time! Such is the record of the Jacobs' Pharmacy Company of Atlanta.

Think of one retail firm giving a single order for an entire car load, twenty-three thousand and forty bottles and agreeing to pay cash for the goods promptly on arrival. Such an order has been received from the Lewis K. Liggett Company, of Winnipeg, Canada.

Another big Canadian retail firm, G. Tamblin, Limited, Toronto, Canada, recently gave their order for one hundred gross, amounting to $10,500.00.

Orders from retailers for from fifty to seventy-five gross are not uncommon, and practically all of the leading retail firms buy Tanlac in from ten to twenty-five gross lots to supply their normal demands.

When the magnificent new laboratories at Dayton, Ohio, and Walker, Canada, with a combined floor space of seventy thousand square feet and a combined capacity of thirty-six thousand bottles were completed, it was thought that the production would be sufficient to supply the demand for years to come. It is now apparent, however, that additional facilities must be provided if the supply is to keep pace with the demand. And this is true in spite of the fact that there are now on the market from fifty to one hundred preparations claiming similar therapeutic value.

Tanlac has now been on the market for five years. It has stood the acid test of time. It is known and honored in every city, town, village, and hamlet on the American Continent from Key West, Florida, to the Northern wilds of Canada, where even the Indians and Fur Traders have learned of its wonderful powers as a medicine.

Its enormous and ever-increasing popularity is the one great outstanding proof of its wonderful merit. No medicine, no matter how extensively advertised, could sell and continue to sell and establish new world's records year after year, if it did not produce actual and positive results.

Tanlac is composed of the most beneficial roots and herbs known to the scientific world. The formula conforms with all National and State Pure Food and Health Laws of both the United States and Canada, and although Tanlac's claims for superiority are abundantly supported by leading authorities, it is the people themselves who have made Tanlac what it is. Millions upon millions have used it and have told other millions what it has done for them.

That is why Tanlac has become the real sensation of the drug trade all over America.

ARM LACERATED BY SHARP TUSKS OF ANGRY BOAR

Lewis Lower, residing on the Sherman Yerian farm on the Circleville pike had his left arm horribly lacerated by the tusks of an angry boar Friday. Lower was working with the hogs when the boar struck at him and imbedded the tusk in his arm. A long gash was cut that reached almost the length of the forearm. Muscles were torn loose and the nerves shattered.

Lower was put in a machine and rushed to Dr. G. W. Blakeley's office in this city where Dr. Roy Brown was also called to assist in caring for the wound.

Many stitches were necessary before the gash in the arm was closed. Besides the wound caused by the sharp tusks of the boar Mr. Lower also suffered from the shock of the injury and loss of blood.

The injured man was later removed to his home where special care is being taken to prevent complications.

Mr. Lower is the son-in-law of Mr. Yerian.

THREE ARE BITTEN BY RABID ANIMAL

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Bolden and John Southerland, of Leesburg are now taking the Pasteur treatment to prevent rabies, the three persons having been bitten by a rabid dog a few days ago.

The dog belonged to the Boldens and was a small animal which was generally kept in the Bolden home.

As a result of two or three mad dogs in Leesburg recently, warning has been issued to residents of that town to keep both dogs and cats penned up until the danger has subsided.

MEMOIR

Leah May Sollars was born November 18, 1883, at New Martinsburg, Ohio and died February 7, 1920, aged 36 years 2 months and 19 days.

Her father Jacob H. Zimmerman died October 4, 1890, at Columbus, O. Her mother Samantha A. Zimmerman lives to mourn her great loss.

Mrs. Sollars had four sisters and three brothers all of whom survive her excepting Charles, who died October 17, 1918. Mrs. O. D. Cockerill, Leesburg, Ohio; Mrs. E. T. Todhunter, Glenwood Springs, Colo.; Mrs. L. E. Konneker, Columbus, Ohio; Mrs. Ollie Collier, Wellston, Ohio; Mr. P. H. Zimmerman, Springfield, Ohio; Mr. G. P. Zimmerman, Greenfield, Ohio.

Mrs. Sollars united with the Methodist Church at New Martinsburg at the age of 18 and after her marriage she transferred her membership to the Mt. Carmel M. E. Church of this neighborhood. She was earnest and enthusiastic in all church work and a cheerful Christian atmosphere pervaded her home.

Her life is like a beautiful book and as the pages unfold an inspiration is left in the minds and hearts of all who knew her.

As a child—Mae was full of life, bubbling over with joy and playfulness. Those who knew her, remember her for her childish simplicity, her cheery good nature, her unselfish companionship and the sweet affectionate regard for brothers, sisters and playmates.

As a girl—her circle of friends developed and the entire community loved her as a sweet unselfish, unaffected girl, whose thoughts were of others, their welfare and comfort. She was a cheerful fun loving companion, a warm hearted friend, a devoted daughter and a loving sister.

Quite early in life Mae became a teacher in the Public Schools, having trained her self for this undertaking with no little effort, but with great thoroughness and efficiency. She carried this same cheerful affectionate disposition with her into the school room, where she was loved, respected and obeyed by all her pupils.

She gave up her work in the school room to become the wife of B. L. Sollars to whom she married June 14, 1905.

As a wife—Mrs. Sollars was to Mr. Sollars all that a good, sweet loving woman could be. Her every thought was of his comfort and happiness. She loved him and respected him every day of their married life; their love and strong affection were consummated and great joy came into their lives and home when little Edwin was born August 19, 1909 and again when little Barton came September 2, 1911. How she loved these little boys and how these four, Mr. and Mrs. Sollars, little Edwin and Barton clung together in this great tie of maternal love.

What a mother she was—She set before these boys an example of her sweet, kind, cheerful Christian life and taught them to love good things and to shun bad.

She was a companion, a playmate and a chum to her boys and left planted in their little minds great impressions of good and the inspiration to be good manly men.

Our hearts are broken as we think of the great loss these boys have sustained, but we know that God in his great love and wisdom will lead them on through the path of life this good Christian mother has pointed out and along which this good father will help them. Mrs. Sollars' sweet unselfish nature was so vividly portrayed by her attitude toward these foster, sons and daughter. She was as kind and devoted to them as their own dear mother from whom they have been bereft. They loved her and regarded her as a great confidant and friend; going to her in time of sickness and trouble, always knowing that she would help and comfort them.

These little grandchildren will sorely miss her. She was so kindly solicitous of their little cares and burdens; giving a hug and a kiss to ease their pain and lighten their little hearts.

In her big heart there was room for all and little Eleanor away down in Arkansas, would bubble over with joy and her face would be wreathed in smiles at the mention of an anticipated visit from "B" as her childish tongue pronounced it.

This dear mother and these sisters and brothers have in their minds a more complete picture of her short but useful life and carry in their hearts the great unselfish love she bore them and will miss her more than words are inadequate to express.

As a friend and neighbor Mrs. Sollars will be sorely missed, but her memory will be carried in the hearts of all who knew her and her beautiful life will forever be an inspiration to these bereft friends. A pall has fallen over the households of this neighborhood and words are inadequate to describe the loss we all feel in the death of this good woman.

Overland 4 Sedan

Pride of Ownership

Wherever Overland 4 appears, its performance creates an enthusiasm which has not been equaled by any previous car of American manufacture.

Here are some of the thousands of testimonials of appreciation that have been coming in from everywhere since Overland 4 was introduced.

"I think it is the best all-around car I have ever driven," says one.

"It is," in one man's opinion, "the best little car on the market. It has all kinds of power and pep, and the new spring suspension makes it as easy riding as any big and heavy car."

Another wrote: "I left Minot on high, and never changed gears until I got home, and took all the rough roads at a speed with which the ordinary springs would be impossible to accomplish with any comfort at all to the passengers. But we certainly were comfortable in Overland 4."

A North Dakota business man says: "The car is surely a credit, not only to the Overland line, but to the whole automobile industry." He adds as his earnest conviction: "all anyone who hesitates has to do is to get into an Overland 4; take it over a rough road, not over the smooth, and he will be convinced. It stands in a class by itself."

Another man, who does a great deal of driving, finds that "it has plenty of speed and power, and is the best car on the market today. Still another expresses it this way: "It is the best car I can get in the market for anywhere near the money."

An important feature is noted by a writer who points out that "the finish of the body and the upholstering seem to be just as good as in the high priced cars, and the accessibility of the different parts is the best we have ever seen. We herewith congratulate you upon having the distribution of a car like the Overland 4."

In A Word, The New Overland Four Has "Everything."

R. C. Shisler and J. R. Hoppes Purchase Persinger Lot on The Dale Alley.

Full Building Plans Not Yet Determined—Dodge Sales Rooms To Be Included.

With final exchange of legal papers a highly important business deal was consummated Friday evening whereby Messrs. R. C. Shisler of the Shisler Motor Sales Company of this city, and J. R. Hoppes, garage operator of Jeffersonville, become owners of the Persinger lot on West Court street, on the Dale Alley, and will proceed, within a short time, to erect a modern building or buildings on the lot.

The lot fronts 84 feet on Court street and extends back to the alley, 165 feet. A cottage and another small building are located on the lot at the present time, but these probably will be removed with in a short time when ground is broken for the modern structure to be erected on the lot. Chas. Gerstner negotiated the deal.

PAINS NEARLY DOUBLED ME UP

Nothing Helped Me Until I Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Wyandotte, Mich.—“For the last four years I have doctored off and on without help. I have had pains every month so bad that I would nearly double up. Sometimes I could not sweep a room without stopping to rest, and everything I ate upset my stomach. Three years ago I lost a child and suffered so badly that I was out of my head at times. My bowels did not move for days and I could not eat without suffering. The doctor could not help me and one day I told my husband that I could not stand the pain any longer and sent him to the drug-store to get me a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and threw the doctor's medicine away. After taking three bottles of Vegetable Compound and using two bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash I could do my own housework. If it had not been for your medicine I don't know where I would be today and I am never without a bottle of it in the house. You may publish this if you like that it may help some other woman.”—Mrs. MARY SPENCER, 120 Orange St., Wyandotte, Mich.

Actual purchase of the lot occurred sometime ago, but several weeks elapsed before final consummation of the transaction.

The lot is a valuable one and ideally located, being almost in the heart of the business district, and will be enhanced in value when the new post-office building is erected on the lot almost immediately back of the lot just purchased.

Messrs. Shisler and Hoppes have not fully determined the extent of the building or buildings to be erected, but announce that actual construction will be started as soon as weather permits.

Mr. Shisler, who has the Dodge automobile agency for this territory, will have the eastern part of the lot, and the building will include a sales room and offices with probably a service station.
